To the readers of Annals of Oncology, Volume 1, No. 2 (1990)

Dr. Workman's article The cell membrane and cell signals: New targets for novel anticancer drugs on pages 100–111 of the above-mentioned issue contained a number of technical misprints.
To our regret we did not notice these errors in time to correct them before publication and we apologize for this situation.
To compensate for the inconvenience we offer a corrected offprint of this article without charge to all those readers who are interested and apply to the publisher for a copy.
